Architects report Midway's Social Hall shows no signs of settlement or major cracking.

Midway Social Hall Has Weathered Well

When balmy spring weather comes to Utah, there is no place quite as pleasant as Midway, that once completely rural village in the center of the Heber Valley. There the visitor can still glimpse a cow or two, watch the clear waters of the Provo River burbling between grassy banks and even lean on a rail fence while contemplating the gorgeous view of snow-lathered Wasatch peaks, including broad Timpanogos or the backside of mountains rimming Brighton. Midway has obviously grown quite a bit in recent years, and its attractions now include golf and increasingly successful restaurants specializing in Swiss-German eatables.

Utahns and outlanders in search of semi-rural life have been building and moving into new homes that don't invariably relate to old Midway or nearby Heber. However, the Homestead resort has grown with the times, and now boasts outdoor dining and a golf course — amenities that might confound or at least surprise members of a bygone generation who enjoyed the soothing, if rather pungent, waters of Schneitters or Luke's Hot Pots. But the sight of grazing livestock, or of the Heber Creeper chugging its way through farm fields and along the shores of Deer Creek, still can calm the psyches of folks afflicted with the remnants of wintertime cabin fever.

It should go without saying that much of Midway's charm lies in a multitude of elderly homes complete with red brick walls, white window trim, and elaborate wooden porch carpentry reminiscent of England and even Switzerland of a long-gone era. This columnist has reported on such homes several times in the past. Today's sketch instead calls attention to a plain but useful building, the old Midway Social Hall, a one-story structure dating to 1898. It has few architectural features, although some students see hints of the Greek Revival Style in this simple structure. But to this columnist, the one-story Social Hall attracts the interest of strollers on the town's modest Main Street for two reasons — the unique local material used in its construction and the purposes for which it was built.

If you ever have taken a dip at the town's naturally warmed "hot pots," you must have become aware of the fact that the deposits from the local springs or geysers are limestone. The natural craters from which the lime-impregnated waters arise are some 10 to 20 feet in diameter, and the mounds formed by the warm-water depositions take the shape of modest hillocks. Fortunately for the thrifty early settlers of Midway and vicinity, the limestone can be cut rather easily, and it "weathers out" quite hard.

The Midway Social Hall is just one of many structures made of this rough gray stone. In addition to houses and out-buildings, there must be miles of stone fencing throughout the Heber Valley — not as many stone walls as you still find in New England, of course, but certainly a sufficient number.

The hall's foundation and its 21-inch-thick walls are pot rock. Walls are secured by tooled mortar joints cementing the "rocks," in courses with no otherwise visible pattern.

The original interior consists of a large main floor, supported by a partial basement and topped by a small attic. The most recent use of the Social Hall has been for canning and food storage for church projects. But its principal historic interest lies in its original use as the major community meeting place and town center for what today we would label as the "Performing Arts." Once virtually every town and city in Utah had its Social Hall, constructed through the use of donated labor and a modest amount of Latter-day Saints funds. The Midway hall is one of the few survivors.

Virtually any amusement in such a village as Midway took place in the Social Hall — church celebrations and anniversaries, dances, theatrical affairs and concerts. Since LDS Church and civic affairs were in many ways inseparable, the hall was also the site of most civic or community affairs, including town meetings. Midway had no other civic center until the construction of 1940 WPA-built Town Hall, noteworthy for displaying the flags of various Swiss cantons.

One local resident, George Johnson, reported to the Utah State Historical Society that the building opened with a Christmas Eve dance in 1898 and was used by traveling theatrical troupes on Friday nights and for dances on Saturdays.

The Midway Hall Co., technically the first owners of the Social Hall, was dissolved in 1910. After something of a hiatus, the First and Second Midway Corps. of the LDS Church paid $3,500 for full title. When its multitude of functions were transferred to the new Town Hall, it served as a cannery, bishop's storehouse and welfare storage center. Currently used for some canning and storage, it is now the property of the Midway Boosters Club, which hopes it can become a modest museum.

Architects and historians who nominated the Social Hall to the National Register of Historic Places stated, "There are no signs of settlement or major cracking ... and the building's integrity has been maintained." The pot-rock walls may stand for another century.

Midway City Wants Boosters To Pay Their Way For Swiss Days

Midway City Council Looking To Cover Costs Generated By Celebration

by Kari Gibb
Staff Reporter

In this week's Midway City Council meeting, held May 1, 1997, the council found themselves faced with a dilemma; what to do with Swiss Days or more specifically, the Boosters Club that run Swiss Days. The problem has to do with the cost of keeping up with the activities. The discussion started when the Wasatch County Sheriff's department raised fees for law enforcement during the event. Wasatch County has recently approved a five percent pay increase for the Sheriff and the Deputies. That cost has to be passed on to the city of Midway, which contracts out law enforcement to the Sheriff's department.

In looking at ways to trim costs, discussion turned to Swiss Days. To give Swiss Days the coverage it needs from law enforcement it takes 294 man hours at roughly $15 per hour. The $4,100 it takes to pay for law enforcement is a direct hit on the budget for the city of Midway. Other costs that rise from Booster sponsored activities were also discussed. Between Swiss Days, Booster meetings, Swiss Christmas and other events, Midway spends around $10,000 a year. With the cost of road work and other needs of the city, the council is going to have to look hard to cover the costs of club sponsored events.

In the past, Midway City has recovered funds from the Boosters for Swiss Days. Also, a member of the Midway City Council has sat on the Booster's Board. The last city council member to sit with the Boosters was told he was no longer needed there. For the past two years Midway has not received any funds from the Boosters for the cost of Swiss Days. Midway will be faced with either charging the Boosters in order to keep Swiss Days in Midway or may be faced with looking for a new home according to Midway City Council member Arlin Kohler. Kohler is looking for cooperation with the Boosters in order to recoup lost expenses.

In other items, the council set June 5, 1997 as the date for a public hearing on the Swiss Alpenhof Estates Preliminary Plan at 7:30 pm. The council also set a public hearing for the 1997-1998 budget session for June 19, 1997, at 7:30 pm. Resolution 97-5 was adopted stating the city's support for the Olympics and the council was presented with a look at projected traffic and possible plans to deal with the growth in traffic.

Editorial

A Time For Reason

The moment of truth appears to have confronted the Midway Boosters and the Midway City Council. In a time of rising costs for services such as law enforcement, electricity, upkeep of public facilities Midway City finds itself in the precarious position of grand plans and little funds.

The Midway City Council is hinting, however so quietly, that they would like Midway Boosters to pay for use of their buildings and fees incurred during Swiss Days and other events located within the city or on its property.

The Boosters obviously contribute a great deal to Midway in particular and the county in general. Midway City in turn is justified in charging the Boosters rent for use of the buildings and security fees. This issue should not be cause for any ill feelings but merely recognizing the fact that to put on an event as large as Swiss Days requires a heavy price tag.

The Boosters should not expect city leaders to watch sizeable profits continue to be generated at their expense however well channeled into local projects. City fathers have a responsibility to protect all interests of the community not just the goals of any particular interest group.

We commend the thousands of volunteer hours that are donated by the Boosters in presenting a spectacular program each year.

We implore both the Midway Boosters and Midway City Council to come to a fair and equitable solution to this dilemma of the fees. Both sides have too much too much to lose without each other.

Midway Boosters Haven't Been Contacted By City

Dear Editor: As the President of the Midway Boosters, I feel compelled to write the editor in light of last week's article appearing on the front page of The Wasatch Wave.

The Midway Boosters Club is a Corporation organized as a non-profit organization of Utah.

The mission of the corporation is:

A. To preserve and perpetuate the cultural, social and spiritual traditions of those who settle and build this community.

B. To preserve and improve the economic, geographic, environmental and educational aspects of the Midway, Utah.

C. To foster good will and cooperation extended to all residents in the community of Midway and outlying areas.

Service in the Midway Boosters Club and sponsored activities is voluntary. A very high percentage of our community involve themselves in Booster sponsored activities especially the Swiss Days Festival. Much is given in service and sacrifice by individuals and families to this effort. Because of this unselfish giving and sacrifice there is a unique bonding of community love and fellowship. To understand what I'm trying to say you really have to be an active participant.

Sadly, as in any venture of this magnitude, there are occasions when someone feels left out or does not feel they get properly recognized for their effort.

Overall its exhilarating to me to see hundreds of community volunteers working together doing what needs to be done, seldom complaining and not expecting any special recognition or commendation. It is this cooperation that makes Midway wonderfully unique and a special creative and grateful for this gesture. The second example occurred at our last board meeting on April 23, (we meet the fourth Wednesday of each month) a member of the City Council addressed our board requesting funds for a city sponsored community project at the Midway Cemetery. In that meeting, we allocated the requested funds.

It may be appropriate to briefly review some of the projects to which we have contributed for the benefit of our city and community. In the past three years since I have been involved as a board member, we have painted the Midway Town Hall, purchased a grand piano for the town Hall, participated in the purchase of Snake Creek land, purchased playground equipment for the Midway Elementary School, helped with "Issues of the 90's", provide and take care of Midway Town Square flowers, contribute to the graduating Wasatch High School class for their graduation parties, Midway Daughters of Utah Pioneer Museum improvements, Midway Social Hall painting, roofing and improvements. McGruff desire that we can maintain our traditions and the values that make Midway the friendly and beautiful community that we currently enjoy and appreciate.

As far as I know, nobody has been told they aren't needed and nobody from the City of Midway has contacted me concerning the issues raised in The Wave article.

John R. Oleson
President Midway Boosters Club

Midway July 4th

The chill of our mountain air was unable to dampen the spirit of the Fourth of July sunrise service held in Midway last Friday morning. Although you could see the breathe of the choir, their sweet music warmed all who attended. Midway Mayor Stephen Ridge was the MC for what would be another successful ceremony.

First the wake-up call of blasting from Memorial Hill at 6 a.m. Those who would heed the call were in for a morning that would enrich the spirit and warm the heart.

Janice Kapp Perry would take the center stage of the gazebo and try to shade her eyes from the approaching sun and deliver a patriotic message that would make it all worthwhile.

As everyone felt the chill and huddled close to each other for warmth, the small town charm was warmed when the mayor offered available seats to those who had just arrived which melted the tension on stage. Janice Kapp Perry arose and approached the microphone. Soon after, the soft words spoke and most important, the spirit of freedom had moved upon the speaker the crowd knew then it was worthwhile to forgo the extra rest and be uplifted. Janice's soft voice and inspired music had filled the void of unexpectedness.

The speaker's words, the choir's voices, and most importantly the audience had been all brought together for a special time to reflect on what has been a moment in time of appreciation to God and the country which he had brought forth himself for the most chosen land on earth, America. So with a prayer for our leaders, and words and music to praise what we all feel for our land, the sunrise service was just what we expected.

There were veterans from World War II and a few you could tell who were in Viet Nam. All together in solemn assembly to God for this our great land. A service worthwhile no matter who speaks. Don't miss it next year because no one wants to sleep during a thankful meeting to God for all we have. Remember, many have sacrificed all they had, even their lives for our freedom and this message was felt by all. God bless our town, God bless our valley, God bless our state and God bless America!

4th of July Activities in Midway Slated

Janice Kapp Perry

Janice Kapp Perry is the keynote speaker for the sunrise service at 7 a.m. in Midway sponsored by the Midway Boosters. The fun dynamite blast will be at 6 a.m. as usual, then the service, after that a breakfast will be available at the town square.

Later, at 7:30 p.m., there will be a Bellringer Concert inside the town hall. That will be such a treat - we are so grateful the Bellringers give us a free concert every 4th of July. The evening will be capped off with the fireworks coming from off the top of Memorial Hill. Chairman of the event are Mark and Vicki Allen and Marilyn and Lowell Larsen, from the Booster Club.

Janice Kapp Perry was born in Ogden. She was raised in Vale, OR, and currently lives in Provo. She is married to Douglas Perry and they have five children and 13 grandchildren. Through the years, they have also had many foster children.

Appearing on the program with the Bell Ringers will be the fantastic Wasatch Cloggers, a group guaranteed to provide lively entertainment for all. Please come and join us.

Midway Celebration Appreciated

Dear Editor: July 4th was great in Midway! We had such a good time and enjoyed another wonderful event sponsored by the Midway Boosters. These celebrations come and go without our citizens realizing all the work the Midway Boosters contribute.

The day started with the Sunrise Service in the city park. Janice Kapp Perry gave an excellent speech on patriotism and even sang some of her new songs written with Senator Hatch. What a treat! The Swiss Chorus was inspiring, conducted by Marilyn Urry and accompanied by Marilyn Larsen. They were the first chorus to sing a new song, "Freedoms Light", composed by Janice Kapp Perry and Senator Hatch. The MC was Mayor Ridge. It was an inspiring way to start this special day.

After the program, a delicious chuckwagon breakfast was served at the park (prepared by the Midway Fourth Ward Young Men and Young Women). What a great job that was too!

Swiss Days 50 Years Old

This year's annual "Swiss Days" event in Midway, Utah marks the fiftieth anniversary since the town's first Labor Day weekend celebration held in 1947. Originally called the "Harvest Festival," Swiss Days started out as a coming together of Midway's townspeople to participate in a day of picnicking, rodeoing, and games.

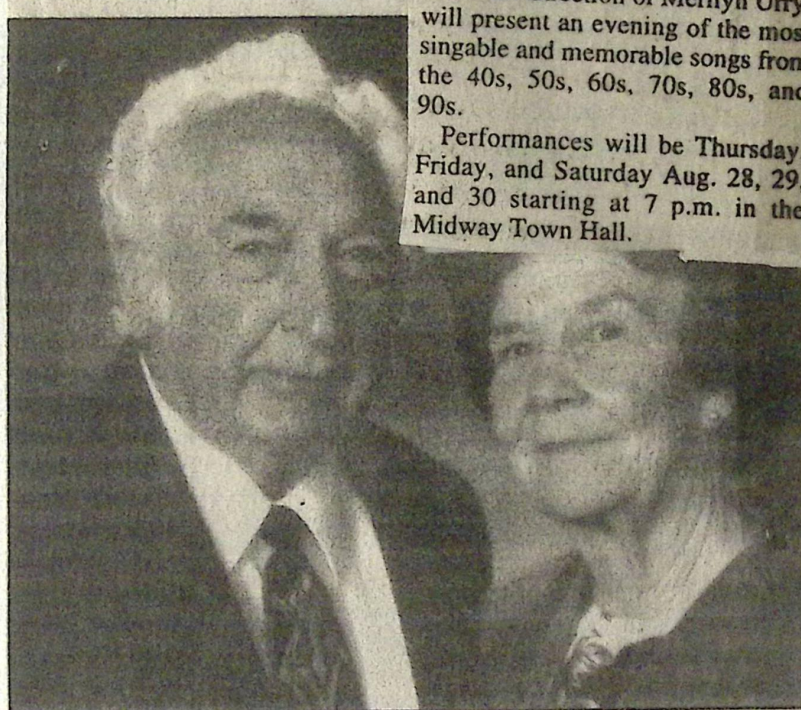

1997

Swiss Days Musical; 50 Year Birthday Bash

In celebration of the 50th anniversary of Swiss Days, the theme for the Swiss Days Musical will be a "50 Year Birthday Bash".

The forty member Swiss Chorus, under the direction of Marilyn Urry, will present an evening of the most singable and memorable songs from the 40s, 50s, 60s, 70s, 80s, and 90s.

Performances will be Thursday, Friday, and Saturday Aug. 28, 29, and 30 starting at 7 p.m. in the Midway Town Hall.

Swiss Days Honors Couple

The honored citizens for this year's Swiss Days are Eugene and Shirley Owens of Midway. They are the parents of four children, fifteen grandchildren, and one new great-grandchild.

Gene was born in Oasis, Utah and was raised in Delta. He served in the Navy for 36 months, mostly in the Aleutian Islands and on the island of Guam. Shirley was born in Springville and raised in Idaho. She worked for the Bamberger Railroad in Salt Lake City during the war, and later completed 29 years of bank service. They came to Midway in 1975 because the small town rural atmosphere suited their life-style.

The Owens' LDS religious affiliation has been a big part of both of their lives. They have served in many capacities throughout the years in both ward and stake. Always active in community projects, the Owens' are quick to promote Midway City. Gene has served on the board of adjustments, planning commission, the city council, as well as working long hours with the Swiss Days Committee.

Midway is proud to honor both Gene and Shirley for their willingness to serve their community.

Celebrating 50 Years

Midway's Swiss Days turns 50 years old this week. Started as the Harvest Festival back in 1947, the celebration was the idea of the Midway Boosters Organization, which was organized the same year. The first year, the Jackson Trio (Eugene and Freddie Jackson and Virgil Johnson, from Florentine Gardens, California) was the featured musical group. By 1953 Scott Whitaker, president of the Boosters, decided to adopt a Swiss theme for the festival, evolving into the Swiss Days known today.

Proceeds from Swiss Days has always contributed to the community. In fact, a project in 1948 called for the tearing down of the Star Saloon in place of a flower garden. In 1955, the construction of the Midway ball park was completed. And during the mid-1950's, the Boosters called upon Midway's two LDS wards for help.

Swiss Days made a significant change by 1985 when stricter rules were adopted. Up until then, booths could be often seen selling VCR's and sandals. It was then decided that the Swiss theme would be a more closely regulated factor in booth and craft selection, private food booths would no longer be allowed on the city square, application fees were to accompany each application, and deadlines for booth entries were instituted. It was also during 1985 that the LDS Church started to receive money from the Boosters for its crucial role in carrying on the celebration.

Today's Swiss Days is estimated to bring in more than 70,000 visitors in a two-day period, with more than 1,100 volunteers making it all possible. In more subtle ways, the event can be seen by many as a precursor of greater things yet to come to the Heber Valley, namely the cross-country and biathlon venue of the Olympics, projected to host just as many people each day during a two week period.

Congratulations to those early organizers who implemented a lasting and evolving celebration assured to see another 50 years of Swiss tradition. From the thousands of volunteers and organizers to those who frequent the booths, all have made Swiss Days a success.

Happy Birthday Swiss Days

Swiss Chorus Going Strong For More Than 50 Years

by Christine Caldwell
Staff Reporter

Before the craft booths, before the sauerkraut and scones, yes, even before Swiss Navajo Tacos—way back before the town celebration was called Swiss Days—there was a musical performance as part of the harvest time festivities. These days the musical is performed by the Swiss Chorus, which is sponsored and supported by the Midway Boosters Club.

This year the forty-one members of the Swiss Chorus will perform once again as Midway celebrates 50 years of Swiss Days. The theme for the musical production is "50 Year Birthday Bash," and includes musical hits from each decade beginning with the 40's. The evening will start with the rousing "Stomp Your Foot/Clap Your Hands," and will move through well-known favorites such as: "Paper Doll," "Barbara Ann," "If I Had A Hammer," and "Don't It Make My Brown Eyes Blue," to the beautiful "God Help the Outcasts" from the movie "Hunchback," and the traditional "Edelweiss."

Soloists Cass Ho, Susan Kohler, Brittany Robertson, and Sheree Fitzgerald add variety to the program along with Marilyn Urry's quartet "The Mamselles," singing songs they recorded with RCA, and the Swiss Miss Royalty, who will do "The Candyman."

The Master of Ceremonies for the "Birthday Bash" will be Mark Allen, who may be remembered as the lead in last year's "Legacy of Love" production.

It takes months of practice and a host of committed workers to pull off a major production such as this one promises to be, and the backbone of this work force is a talented mixture of long-time residents and new faces.

The producer, Bob Donahue, is a recent transplant from New York City where he sang professionally and produced various Off-Broadway dance concerts, recitals, and musicals.

Marilyn Urry, this year's director, has been involved in the Swiss Days programs for many years, as well as producing, directing, and acting in various other productions here in the valley.

Marilyn Larsen is back for her 13th year as the Swiss Chorus accompanist, and when not playing for the chorus can be found entertaining guests at the Homestead, or teaching students in her own home.

Ginger LaGuardia, a professional costume designer, who moved here from California where she worked in the theater, has designed costumes for some of the numbers; and Carolyn Hogwood helped with the set, lending a creative hand to decorate for this 50th Anniversary celebration.

Performance dates are Friday and Saturday, August 29 and 30 at 7:00 P.M. in the Midway Town Hall. It should be an entertaining and memorable way to help Midway celebrate a half century of Swiss Days.

Honored Citizens

The honored citizens for this year's Swiss Days are Eugene and Shirley Owens who reside at 75 South 200 East. They came to Midway in 1975, because the small town rural atmosphere suited their life style. They are the parents of 4 children, one girl and 3 boys, 15 grandchildren and 1 brand new great grandchild. They call them their jewels. Family is the most important thing in their lives.

Gene was born in the small farming community of Oasis, Utah. He was number 7 in a family consisting of a Father, Mother, four brothers and 5 sisters, two of which died in infancy. When he was age 8 the family moved 7 miles away to Delta, Utah. Daily scripture reading and family prayer was a way of life for them. He has always had great respect for his family.

As a boy growing up on the farm during the depression he participated in all the chores and labors that was a part of farm life. As a very young man Gene worked in the mines in Ely, Nevada and as a fireman for the Union Pacific Railroad. No job was too menial for Gene and whatever he did he did well. Through the years he taught his family to do things right. He always believed anything worth doing was worth doing well.

Gene attended school in Deseret, Delta, Provo Trade Tech and the school of life. He has gained much knowledge through experience.

Shirley was born in Springville, Utah and raised in Idaho. She had one sister and five brothers to mother and boss her around. One sister died as an infant. She attended Butte County Public Schools in Idaho and LDS Business College in Salt Lake City. During her high school years she worked for Mountain States Tel. and Tel. From December 1942 until November 1946 she worked for Bamberger Railroad in Salt Lake City. Here she was "froze" on her job because railroads were a vital war industry. As children grew up and financial demands were greater Shirley went to work for First Security Bank in Delta transferring later to Provo and then on to Heber City, where she completed 29 years of bank service.

Horses and hunting are two of Gene's avocations. When the family moved to Delta, Gene would ride his horse to Oasis to milk the cows and do whatever other chores needed doing. He loved taking the horses and going hunting with his Dad, brothers, sons and friends. They all loved the out of doors and enjoyed camping whenever possible.

When his country needed him he enlisted in the Navy and served for 36 months, 11 of them being on the Island of Attu in the Aleutian Islands and another 18 months on the Island of Guam in the South Pacific. On Attu they built airplane hangers and landing strips and in Guam he worked in the cat shop and built more air landing strips. Three of his brothers also answered their country's call.

Because he loved the rich fertile soil, of which he is a part Gene bought a farm when he came home from the service. When the time came to move off the farm, he already had years of experience in construction. All his life he has built and remodeled homes, schools, hospitals, institutes of religion, various commercial buildings, seminaries, and many churches throughout Utah, Washington, California, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas, and Missouri.

Their church has been a big part of both Gene and Shirley's life. They have served in many capacities throughout the years in both ward and stake. They have both been active in their communities doing whatever was asked such as secretary in the PTA serving as a Room Mother, Cub Scout Den Mother, Scouting, American Legion, 4H Club, High School Rodeo, Days of The Old West Committee, Riding Club etc. in Millard County. They have served willingly and diligently. For the past 22 years they have been active promoters for Midway City. Gene has served on the Board of Adjustments, Planning Commission and the City Council. With Lowell Johnson, and Ken Johnson he worked extremely long hours with the Swiss Days Committee in order to raise money to help build the Midway 1st, 2nd Ward Building. Every year after it was built, that he could, he put in his time and efforts wrapping meat and firing the pit for the barbecue, setting up tents, tearing down tents and on and on.

Shirley loves her great american patriot ancestry and her mormon pioneer heritage and enjoys digging into histories of them. One day each week she serves at the Family History Center. Her ancestry is mostly English, with a little French. Gene's paternal grandfather came from Wales and his maternal ancestry is German. Both Gene and Shirley had grandparents that walked across the plains at a very young age and made their contribution to this great land we live in.

They are both God fearing people with a great capacity for living and find joy in the simple things of life. Friends and family are among their great treasures.

SWISS MISS ROYALTY

Swiss Miss, Melissa Ann Holm is the daughter of Mike and René Holm. She is the second oldest in her family with one older brother and two younger sisters. Melissa has a dynamic personality, she knows what she wants out of life and she is willing to work hard to obtain it, but she never has a hard time having fun either. Melissa stays very busy with a variety of interests: piano, softball, horseback riding, hiking, snow skiing and gathering and identifying wild flowers, but her passion is dance. Melissa has been dancing with the University of Utah's Creative Dance Theater for seven years. Each year the theater prepares a major concert which is performed at the Capital Theater, as well as other various schools and universities. This has been a great experience for Melissa. Melissa feels privileged to live in this beautiful area and to represent Midway as 1997's Swiss Miss.

1st Attendant, Jessica Milligan is the daughter of David and Leona Milligan. Jessica is twelve years old and will be in seventh grade at Wasatch Middle School where she has been an Honor Student. Jessica is the youngest in her family and has two older brothers. She loves to sing, camp, hike, ride her bike, rollerblade, play football, volleyball and basketball. Jessica's favorite weekend activities are boating with her family, fishing and swimming. Jessica has a great personality and a terrific sense of humor. She is proud to be a representative of Midway and is enjoying her year as a Swiss Miss Attendant.

Whitney Kohler is the daughter of Grant and Caralee Kohler. She is eleven years old and the second of five children. Whitney will be in sixth grade and attending Wasatch Middle School this fall. Singing is one of her favorite past times along with dancing and playing the piano. She has a fun personality with a warm cheerful smile. Whitney spends many hours helping her family on the three generation family farm, which was the homestead of her Swiss ancestors. She is excited to be representing Midway in the Swiss Miss Royalty.

Kelsi Jo Remund is the daughter of Roy and Martha Remund. She is 11 years old and will be entering 6th grade this fall. She has spent her life on the family dairy farm where she feeds calves, helps during hay season, drives tractor and changes sprinklers. She has a great love for music and enjoys playing the piano and singing duets with her sister. She is involved in most sports, but her favorites are basketball and softball. Kelsi has a wonderful sense of humor and it shows in her mischievous smile. Having grown up on a fifth generation family dairy farm, Kelsi is very proud to represent Midway in the Swiss Miss Royalty.

Amber Keller is the daughter of Jon and Judy Keller. She is ten years old and loves to dance, swim, camp, read and play sports. She is a student of the Children's Ballet Conservatory, having studied there for four years. She has also participated in the Girl Scout program for three years. Amber is excited and appreciative of the opportunity to represent Midway this year.

This 1997 Swiss Miss Royalty would like to thank the Midway Boosters for providing them with this wonderful opportunity to represent Midway!

Top High School Runners Joined the Swiss Day's 10K This Year...

Fifty years later the field for the Swiss Day's 10K gets deeper and deeper. Runners from around the state found their way to Midway this last Saturday as the 10K got underway. Over 300 running enthusiasts took to the roads of Midway to race for top honors this year. This is the largest turn out that Swiss Day's 10K has ever had.

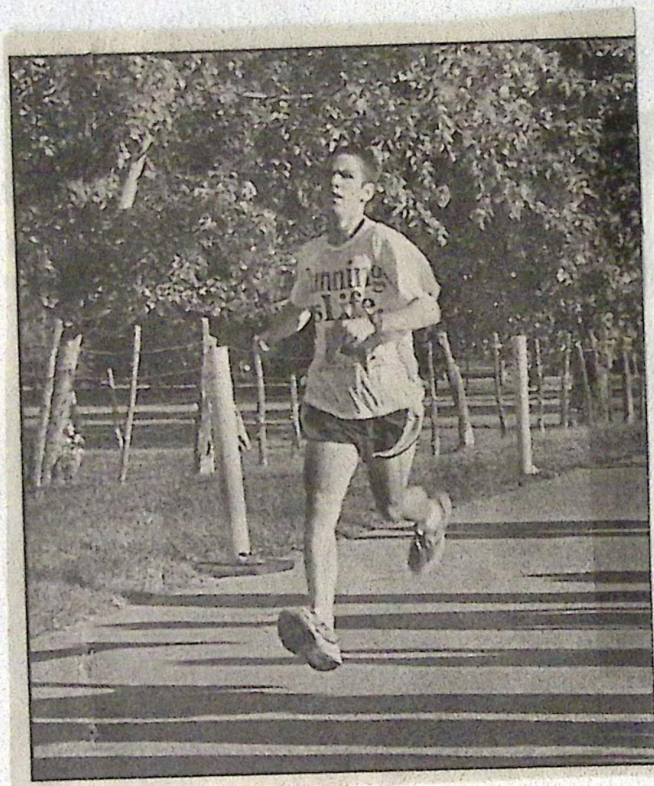

For the women's brackets Madaline Palmer ran a 42:34 for a win in the cool mountain air. Michael Cutler posted a 34:52 for the top time and the top men's slot. results for the various age brackets are as follows:

| Men | Women |
|---|------------------|
| 11 Sean Sievers | Camille McDonald |
| 12-14 Jon Curtis | Jesianna Rose |
| 15-18 Emerson Hamilton | Janet Ogilvie |

The race was a good warm up for the Wasatch Cross-Country team members. Runners from top schools around the state like Brighton, which is nationally ranked, gave the Wasps a good measuring stick. Dave Danley was third in his age bracket and seventh overall in the race. State champion Matt Adams was fourth in his age bracket and eighth overall in the race.

It was good to see all of the super participants come across the finish line with smiles on their faces. The race gets better each year with super help from local law enforcement officials and the many hours of volunteer work that go into getting things ready for the race. Congratulations go out to all who ran and finished. Good Job, See you all next year.

Swiss Days Benefits Community

As Greased Poles Give Way to the Growth of Midway City's Annual Swiss Days, the Spirit of the Event Has Not Changed...

Swiss Days has come a long way from its days of foot-races, pig chases and greased poles. Few could have known that what once started-out as a simple way of getting together and having some good, "clean" fun, would become one of the single largest fund raising activities in Wasatch County.

As we celebrate the 50th anniversary of Swiss Days, we can look at how the event has grown from a small town community celebration, to a civic event that benefits nearly everyone in the Heber Valley. Swiss Days is dedicated to making a difference in Midway and surrounding areas.

The first Swiss Days brought in less than $500. Even though the amount was small, the funds went right back into the community. "Every penny that comes from Swiss Days goes back into the community," says Midway Booster Club treasurer Curt Giles. "It always has been that way and always will be that way."

Some of the donations can be seen in a major way. Just ask students at Midway Elementary how much fun their new playground equipment is. The new play area was a $15,000-$20,000 dollar project. The majority of the funding coming from Swiss Days via the Midway Booster Club.

Some donations from Swiss Days go completely unseen. Swiss Days funds have been used each year in setting-up and maintaining a scholarship fund for Midway graduates of Wasatch High School. Hundreds of dollars go toward Wasatch High School graduation exercises each year. Also, many senior class trips have been helped by the Midway Booster Club.

Around Midway, the Midway Social Hall is getting a much needed restoration. This summer, Swiss Days played a major role in giving the Midway Cemetery a face lift. Nearly $5,000 went towards benches, flowers and landscaping improvements at the cemetery. Nearly $15,000 has been donated to the preservation of the Snake Creek Canyon area. Swiss Days also helps in decorating the streets during Christmas and other holidays.

While Swiss Days has grown from a small afternoon event to a major, nearly week-long extravaganza the spirit of Swiss Days is the same now as it has always been—giving back to the community for all the community gives to Swiss Days.

This year as you wander by the booths and admire the various craft-work, or sit and enjoy the entertainment around you, think of all the wonderful things that Swiss Days will play a part in creating and funding for Midway and the local area. Swiss Days truly is a benefit to us all.

Thanks

At the closing of an exciting year representing Midway we, the Swiss Miss Royalty, would like to express our sincere thanks to many people who made our year a successful one. We want to thank Shanna Hendry for her unselfish service in helping choreograph our dances for each program; Also, Max Mawhinney was called last minute to transport us in one of the parades, and he dropped everything to make sure he was at our service; our parents for their patience, for their time, for their efforts in building the Swiss Days Float; the community for letting us feel so important; the Midway Boosters for their support; and Velma Evans for the beautiful job she did in making our Swiss Miss costumes. If we have missed anyone, we apologize and hope you will know of our gratitude.

1997 Swiss Christmas

The Midway Boosters would like to announce that the 1997 Swiss Christmas celebration will be held on Saturday, Dec. 6, at the Midway Town Hall, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Craft booths are now available and going fast. Those interested in displaying and selling their crafts at this event should contact Kelly and Lynette Christensen at 654-3753.

Everyone is invited to enjoy the great food, crafts, horse-drawn carriage rides, and wonderful entertainment. From noon to 2 p.m., children can enjoy a visit with Father and Mother Christmas.

If you or your group would be interested in performing your talent at sometime throughout the day, contact Kelly and Lynette Christensen.

Mark this date on your calendar. It's something you won't want to miss.

A Swiss Christmas

While stores seem to start Christmas as soon as the last Back-To-School sign comes down, residents of Midway wait until after Thanksgiving to kick-off the giving season with Swiss Christmas.

Swiss Christmas has a lot in common with Swiss Days: It's held at the town square, it was started by the Boosters, and it has crafts, music, and food. A dozen years ago it began as an effort to build community spirit and officially herald in the holiday season. It's held the first Saturday in December in the Town Hall.

It feels a little like Santa's workshop inside with about twenty vendor's booths all decorated in red and green and gold. Shoppers can find a variety of crafts, from bright, painted eggs to landscapes painted in pastel water-colors. Father Christmas stars as replicas of him from many different countries are found scattered around the room.

Swiss Christmas is not just for shoppers, however. It's a place to gather and visit, have a bite to eat, and get into the Christmas spirit while watching local entertainers perform.

If Mother Nature cooperates, residents can gather beside the tall, decorated tree out front and catch a ride on a horse-drawn sleigh. If there's not enough snow for that drive down memory lane, a wagon ride is a fun substitute. This year there are horse drawn carriage rides.

Swiss Christmas will be Saturday, Dec. 6, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Midway Town Hall. Father and Mother Christmas will visit with children from noon to 2 p.m.

In conjunction with Swiss Christmas, the Swiss Chorus and Swiss Handbell Ringers will give a Christmas Concert Sunday, Dec. 7, at 7:30 p.m.

So, if you're not in the Christmas mood come the first of December, shop in at Swiss Christmas. You'll be surprised what a little music and hot wassail can do!

Swiss Days Parade

With Spring approaching, it is a good time for families to start planning their "Family Float" for the Swiss Days Parade held on Sept. 4 and 5.

This is a way for our valley to showcase our great family heritage - and it is a lot of fun, too! Cash prizes will be awarded to the winners. Business floats and horsemanship entries are encouraged to enter the parade also.

Let's all get involved and join in the fun. Volunteers are needed to help with the parade. Please call Judy Sistrunk, 654-1312 for a parade application and more information.

Boosters Purchase AED For Use in Midway

The boosters recently purchased an AED (automatic external defibrillator) for Midway. The American Heart Association came out with a statement last year that said all communities should have an AED for people who go into cardiac arrest. All of the county's ambulances have an AED, but by the time the EMTs respond to the garage and then to the patient's home, it is often too long a wait. This AED is kept in Midway for a faster response time.

While the EMTs sincerely hope they won't be using the AED in the near future, it is nice to know that it's here. A person whose heart has stopped has a much better chance of survival if an AED is available.

Please remember to learn CPR and to activate the EMS system (911) if you suspect somebody's heart has unexpectedly stopped. A huge thank you to the boosters and don't forget to help at Swiss Days!

SWISS MISS, Linzee Bonner is the daughter of Steve and Colleen Bonner. She is the oldest in her family with one younger sister and two brothers. Linzee has been playing the piano for 6 years and she loves to sing. This past winter Linzee learned to ski and loved every minute of it. She also plays soccer and softball. Linzee was on the Honor Roll at Wasatch Middle School this year. She is excited to represent Midway as the 1998 Swiss Miss and share her heritage that goes back to the days of Fort Midway.

FIRST ATTENDANT, Jennifer Lynne Smalley is the oldest of 6 children of Jon and Debbie Smalley. Jennifer's talents include music (she sings, plays the flute and piano), classical ballet (she is a student of The children's Ballet Conservatory) writing, reading, art, and most sports. She loves animals and is constantly looking for a way to go horseback riding. Jennifer is a high honor student at Wasatch Middle School where one of her favorite subjects is science. This past year she received 3 scholarships for her various interests.

Jennifer loves living in Midway because she enjoys the strong community spirit we have here. She often tells her Utah County friends that we have a much prettier view of Timp than they do! Jennifer is excited to represent our beautiful city as a Swiss Miss Attendant.

Melanie Clawson is the twelve-year-old daughter of David and Jennie Clawson. She is the older of their two daughters. She has been studying piano for 6 years and has received an "Outstanding Musician" Award in the Heber Valley Piano Festival for the past three years that she has participated. Melanie loves to read, draw, and write stories. She also loves animals of all kinds and hopes to one day own a ranch where she can have all the animals she wants. Melanie is happy to be a part of the Swiss Miss Royalty because her great-grandfather, Frederick Loertscher, came from Switzerland to Utah when he was just 19 years old. She also dearly loves Midway.

Lauren Hansen is the daughter of George and Cyndy Hansen. She is the youngest of four children and the only girl. She has been a resident of Midway for the past eleven years with one year of absence while living in Wales. She has many interests such as: art, photography, violin, singing, and most sports. She also enjoys sewing, mythology and learning about Egypt. Her latest love is her new kitten, Cocoa, which adds to the cat collection cluttering Lauren's room. She is a student at Wasatch Middle School where she is on the high honor roll. She is thrilled to be a Swiss Miss Attendant and represent Midway in many activities.

Karin Smith is the ten-year-old daughter of George and Kelly Smith. She will be entering fifth grade at Midway Elementary School this fall. Karin loves babysitting, reading, playing computer games and dancing. She is an excellent student who is fascinated with computers and science. She hopes to be a physical therapist or chiropractor when she grows up. Karin is excited to be a part of the Swiss Miss Royalty and have the opportunity to represent Midway.

The 1998 Swiss Miss Royalty would like to thank the Midway Boosters for providing them with this wonderful opportunity to represent Midway!

HISTORY OF MIDWAY

by Dawn Backlin

A visit to Midway City is very much like taking a trip to a Swiss village nestled in the heart of the Alps - a quality which has made Midway one of the most popular destinations of those seeking the laid back lifestyle of mountain living. A rapidly growing bedroom and resort community just west of Heber City in Wasatch County, Utah, Midway's existence is the result of a turbulent past and remains a living monument to an important part of the area's cultural heritage.

Much different from the city of today, Midway originally came in to existence as a combined fortress for early pioneers seeking refuge from possible conflicts with area natives. Hailing, for the most part, from the Provo and American Fork areas of Utah County, the pioneers who called the western part of the Heber Valley home during the mid 1800's settled in two distinct communities located along Snake Creek.

Drawn by the natural hot springs and fertile land, the two small settlements which formed during the winter of 1859, soon grew and established individual identities. What were known as the Upper and Lower Snake Creek settlements - located to the north-west of what is now Midway City became home to 50 families by the summer of 1861. Although the two communities remained separate, they did work together to construct the area's first community meeting place in 1862, located in the upper settlement, known as Mound City. The lower settlement was also designated as the area's first school, or "teacher's" district.

Over the following years the pioneers worked to clear the area, constructing irrigation ditches, roads and bridges, while struggling to carve out their place in the valley. As was true with many of the early settlers making their way across the country, growing tensions with the Native Americans who had originally occupied the open land became a potential threat to the settlers. By 1866, the inhabitants of the two communities felt threatened by the Native Americans who saw the Snake Creek area as their own hunting and trapping territory and plans were made to abandon the communities altogether.

The decision was made by settlers and leaders not to flee the area they had to call home, but instead to band together seeking strength in numbers and construct a communal fortress for the protection of all of the area's inhabitants. That would not give up what they saw as their rights as land owners. Since neither settlement wanted to give up its own part of the valley, a compromise was reached to construct a fort "midway" between the two settlements, in the location which is now known as Midway City.

An area for the town square was established and mapped out. City blocks were laid out around the perimeter. The construction of 75 side-by-side log cabins created a wall around the new community which was completely self contained. The inhabitants were forced to adjust to a confined lifestyle which was run much like a military institution.

The fort was never attacked and was signed with the local Native Americans after "The Black Hawk War" in 1805 removed any potential danger and assured the settler's continuing safety. Instead decorated. Many townspeople helped to complete this major undertaking. Encouraged and supported by the Boosters, the Andersons arranged to have the Glockenspiel built and installed by the good folks at Utah Valley State College. The Swiss Handbell Ringers of Midway became a reality after a fund-raising effort spearheaded by Fran which produced the $10,000 needed to purchase the bells and equipment.

Marge, who served as the President of the Midway Garden Club during its 40th Anniversary celebration, is best known for her great contribution in working with the flowers of Midway. In 1988, as a result of the Beautification Committee's work on the town square and other town areas, and with entry signs designed by Erla Young and carved and painted by Fran, Midway won the Tribune/Utah Nurserymen Assn./Utah Garden Club coveted "Tidy Town" award for the State of Utah. An award garden with a permanent plaque was put in place at the east end of the Booster pavilion on the Town Square by the competing sponsors.

In other civic activities, Marge served on the Midway Board of Adjustments for 5 years. She and Fran are currently members of the Historical Midway Foundation of which Fran is Treasurer. Fran volunteered in 1989 to serve as Executive Director of the Heber Valley Chamber of Commerce where he still serves. He co-chaired the fundraising program and supervised the building of the Heritage Hall/Visitors Center designed by Midway's George Olson. It offers an attractive welcoming place to our whole valley. Fran is currently a member of the Midway Architectural Committee.

Marge's hobbies include cooking, gardening, and artistic table settings. Fran enjoys artwork, golf, reading, and writing. Both Marge and Fran have served their Church in various capacities. They are the parents of three sons and three daughters, and grandparents of three grandsons and three granddaughters, all of whom reside along the Wasatch Front.

We are so grateful for these good people who have blessed everyone's life in our valley.

Fran (Francis) Anderson is a native of Norfolk, Virginia. His family moved to Salt Lake City in 1931, when he was 12. Marjorie (Marge) Martin, whom he married July 25, 1944, in the Salt Lake Temple is from beautiful Swan Valley Idaho. The couple weathered the great depression of the 30's with their families, Marge on their homestead farm in the valley and Fran in the avenues of Salt Lake. Marge's formal education started in a one-room school house, where her bright mind led her to skip a grade, enabling her to graduate from Idaho Falls High School at age 16. In 1941 Marge moved to Salt Lake to pursue a personal health program. She was employed as an assistant in the Wilkinson Medical Clinic. Later she joined Beneficial Life as a secretary. Even with work and the start of a small family, she was able to become a licensed cosmetologist and is a beautician of exceptional talent. Some years later, Marge used her management skills to lead the Federal Employees Federal Credit Union to unprecedented growth.

Fran, (who remembers when radio first became commercial), worked at the LDS Hospital during his senior year at West High School in Salt Lake City. Upon graduation in 1936 he spent the summer as a carpenter's helper. That fall, he joined the Beneficial Life Insurance Co. where he made his career, with some notable interruptions. In 1937, Fran worked part-time and enrolled in the University of Utah. In 1941 he was called to serve in the Eastern States Mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. He returned in 1943 and with World War II in full swing, he joined the U.S. Navy. After an honorable discharge in 1945, Fran returned to the University of Utah, graduating in 1948 with a B.S. in Banking and Finance, and resumed his full-time career with Beneficial Life. In 1981, Fran opted for early retirement and moved to the clean air and pure water of Midway, where Marge designed their humble retirement cottage. One of their first acts was to pay the then required $5 membership fee to join the Midway Boosters Club. That year they were asked to be the Swiss Days "Bean Chairmen". The next year they were asked to serve as the Church Swiss Days Chairmen. Later, Fran proposed an improved financial plan which was adopted by those concerned. During this time, the Boosters Club noted the condition of the Old Town Hall and became interested in refurbishing it, using the funds which had been accumulating from Swiss Days.

Marge and Fran were appointed co-chairmen of the Town Square Beautification project which included the Town Hall. Marge was able to obtain carpeting from the Marriott Hotel at a fraction of its cost. This became wainscoting for the hall walls and floors. She also had the restrooms completely redone and

The Swiss Handbell Ringers of Midway became a reality after a fund-raising effort spearheaded by Fran which produced the $10,000 needed to purchase the bells and equipment.

Marge, who served as the President of the Midway Garden Club during its 40th Anniversary celebration, is best known for her great contribution in working with the flowers of Midway. In 1988, as a result of the Beautification Committee's work on the town square and other town areas, and with entry signs designed by Erla Young and carved and painted by Fran, Midway won the Tribune/Utah Nurserymen Assn./Utah Garden Club coveted "Tidy Town" award for the State of Utah. An award garden with a permanent plaque was put in place at the east end of the Booster pavilion on the Town Square by the competing sponsors.

In other civic activities, Marge served on the Midway Board of Adjustments for 5 years. She and Fran are currently members of the Historical Midway Foundation of which Fran is Treasurer. Fran volunteered in 1989 to serve as Executive Director of the Heber Valley Chamber of Commerce where he still serves. He co-chaired the fundraising program and supervised the building of the Heritage Hall/Visitors Center designed by Midway's George Olson. It offers an attractive welcoming place to our whole valley. Fran is currently a member of the Midway Architectural Committee.

Marge's hobbies include cooking, gardening, and artistic table settings, Fran enjoys artwork, golf, reading, and writing. Both Marge and Fran have served their Church in various capacities. They are the parents of three sons and three daughters, and grandparents of three grandsons and three granddaughters, all of whom reside along the Wasatch Front.

We are so grateful for these good people who have blessed everyone's life in our valley.

Swiss Miss, Linzee Bonner is the daughter of Steve and Colleen Bonner. She is the oldest in her family with one younger sister and two brothers. Linzee has been playing the piano for 6 years and she loves to sing. This past winter Linzee learned to ski and loved every minute of it. She also plays soccer and softball. Linzee was on the Honor Roll at Wasatch Middle School this year. She is excited to represent Midway as the 1998 Swiss Miss and share her heritage that goes back to the days of Fort Midway.

First Attendant, Jennifer Lynne Smalley is the oldest of 6 children of Jon and Debbie Smalley. Jennifer's talents include music (she sings, plays the flute and piano), classical ballet (she is a student of The children's Ballet Conservatory) writing, reading, art, and most sports. She loves animals and is constantly looking for a way to go horseback riding. Jennifer is a high honor student at Wasatch Middle School where one of her favorite subjects is science. This past year she received 3 scholarships for her various interests. Jennifer loves living in Midway because she enjoys the strong community spirit we have here. She often tells her Utah County friends that we have a much prettier view of Timp than they do! Jennifer is excited to represent our beautiful city as a Swiss Miss Attendant.

Melanie Clawson is the twelve-year-old daughter of David and Jennie Clawson. She is the older of their two daughters. She has been studying piano for 6 years and has received an "Outstanding Musician" Award in the Heber Valley Piano Festival for the past three years that she has participated. Melanie loves to read, draw, and write stories. She also loves animals of all kinds and hopes to one day own a ranch where she can have all the animals she wants. Melanie is happy to be a part of the Swiss Miss Royalty because her grandfather, Frederick Loertscher, came from Switzerland to Utah when he was just 19 years old. She also dearly loves Midway.

Lauren Hansen is the daughter of George and Cyndy Hansen. She is the youngest of four children and the only girl. She has been a resident of Midway for the past eleven years with one year of absence while living in Wales. She has many interests such as: art, photography, violin, singing, and most sports. She also enjoys sewing, mythology and learning about Egypt. Her latest love is her new kitten, Cocoa, which adds to the cat collection cluttering Lauren's room. She is a student at Wasatch Middle School where she is on the high honor roll. She is thrilled to be a Swiss Miss Attendant and represent Midway in many activities.

Kerin Smith is the ten-year-old daughter of George and Kelly Smith. She will be entering fifth grade at Midway Elementary School this fall. Kerin loves babysitting, reading, playing computer games and dancing. She is an excellent student who is fascinated with computers and science. She hopes to be a physical therapist or chiropractor when she grows up. Kerin is excited to be a part of the Swiss Miss Royalty and have the opportunity to represent Midway.

The 1998 Swiss Miss Royalty would like to thank the Midway Boosters for providing them with this wonderful opportunity to represent Midway!

Swiss Days Brings Out The Crowds

The annual Swiss Days celebration in Midway City drew tens of thousands of visitors to the small hamlet last Friday and Saturday. Above, a resident dressed in traditional Swiss attire sells hand forged bells. The bells were made in Switzerland.

More News About The Swiss Days Parades

Now that summer is in full swing, we hope you are working on your family float for the Swiss Days Parades. It will be an exciting event for the members of your family which will build great memories. Prizes will be awarded and your participation is a great way to get off the sidelines and "Have fun"! This year the parades will be Friday, Sept. 4 at 6 p.m., and Saturday, Sept. 5 at 10 a.m.

This year, UDOT is requesting a waiver and release form for each participant in the parade. This means every man, woman and child must have a waiver form signed and in Judy Sistrunk's possession before they can be in the parade. So please be sure you have contacted Judy Sistrunk (654-1312) so she can get you the appropriate forms and information.

Another change will be the starting point for the children Bike Riders. They will line up for the parade at 3rd East and Main Street in Midway. Each child is urged to wear a helmet and will need a waiver form signed by their parent before they can ride in the parade. The waiver forms will be on the bulletin board at Winterton's Market and later at Midway Elementary School. Prizes will be awarded for the best decorated helmet and decorated bikes. For the safety of the children, the bikes will be the first entry in the parade- leading the parade (What fun).

Since UDOT has put restrictions on the parade, you must submit an application for the parade, so please call Judy Sistrunk (654-1312) and let's get the parades off to a great start!

It's Starting to Look a Lot Like Swiss Christmas

...well, time to think about applying for a display booth, anyway

SUBMITTED BY DIANNE DAVEY

Only 50 days remain until Swiss Christmas 1998. The Midway Boosters announce the availability of booth space for artists and crafters at the annual Swiss Christmas Party to be held on Saturday, Dec. 5, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Swiss Christmas is a traditional festivity held in the Midway Town Hall to begin a month of Christmas celebration. There will be exciting entertainment throughout the day, delicious traditional Swiss food, artists, crafts and a special visit from Father and Mother Christmas from noon until 2 p.m.

The purpose of Swiss Christmas is to provide the friends and neighbors a good "old fashion" town party. Special entertainment will be held on the half hour beginning at 10 a.m., including singing, children's dance, Christmas music and carols.

Applications will be accepted from artists and crafters for the 20 booths to display and sell their Christmas and holiday oriented crafts. A fee of $25 per booth for Midway residents and $50 per booth for non resident artists.

Interested persons are invited to call Dianne Davey at 654-4459 or Fax 657-1263 to receive an application form.

Mr. and Mrs. Swiss Santa Claus will be on hand once again at this year's Christmas festivities in Midway. It may only be October, but now's the time to apply for a craft booth for the event.

Hawthorne Camp DUP Receives New Museum Office

Sept - 1998

The Hawthorne Camp, Daughters of Utah Pioneers have had an eventful summer. They needed more room for their museum. Midway City donated the rooms on the west side of the town hall to the DUP. Councilman, Karl North and sons, spearheaded the project and removed cupboards, etc. to make more room for the DUP Museum. Then new carpet was needed. Karl North, owner of Midway Floor Coverings, donated and laid the carpet at his cost. The Midway Booster Club paid $1,000 toward the carpet.

The DUP appreciates so much the kindness of Midway City and the Midway Booster Club for making it possible for them to improve their museum. The DUP wants to thank all of the officers and members of the Hawthorne Camp for all the work they have done. It has been a special experience. 'Big Four' Land Parcel Preserved As Open Space

Conservation easement placed on tract

Utah Open Lands, with the assistance of the Snake Creek Preservation Society, located in Midway, has acquired the 109 acre "big four" mining company parcel in Snake Creek Canyon above Wasatch Mountain State Park.

The big four property is a critical parcel in the canyon with respect to access to the upper canyon and wildlife conservation. It was also the last accessible "lot of record" in the upper canyon with significant development potential.

The property was one of the two parcels optioned for development by Boyne USA in 1990-93 as a part of the proposed Brighton expansion into Wasatch County. The big four parcel was needed for access, the lower lift terminals, and for planned road cuts to the top of the mountain.

In 1995, another parcel, the larger 752 acre Mid Park Mining Company tract, was purchased by a consortium of conservation and local/state government groups, led by The Nature Conservancy. That parcel was then turned over to State Parks, with a perpetual conservation easement on the property being granted to Utah Open Lands.

The big four parcel became available in 1996. Since then, the Snake Creek Preservation Society has been in negotiation with the landowners, a group of local large families with a colorful mining history. The mining claims have been in the same families since their Patent Grant in 1909 from President Taft was issued. As the families have grown larger and older, it was the desire of the family leaders to be able to see the land preserved forever.

To that end, the land was purchased last week by Utah Open Lands and then sold to Wasatch Mountain State Park (54 acres), the Forest Service (35 acres), and the Snake Creek Preservation Society (20 acres), with conservation easements on the State Park and Snake Creek Preservation parcels being granted to Utah Open Lands.

This purchase ensures both the integrity of the natural resources of the canyon and guarantees access into the canyon in perpetuity, along with providing excellent timber, watershed, and viewshed conservation, and very high value upland meadows for big game habitat.

"This is really the result of the continuing vision and efforts by George Hansen and his family, demonstrating that one individual can make a difference and that local efforts can have a much larger, broader impact," said Wendy Fisher, executive director of Utah Open Lands. "We are grateful for the enduring support of all of the partners and landowner. Without that, this would not have been possible."

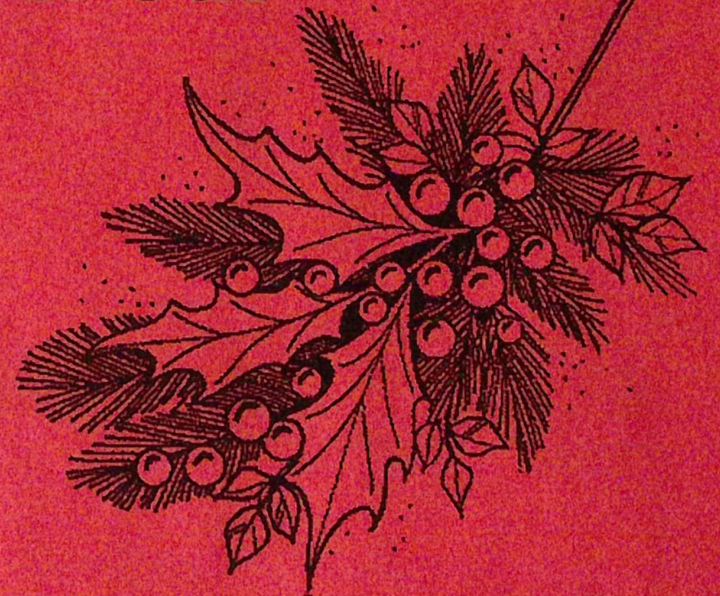

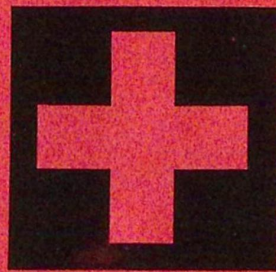

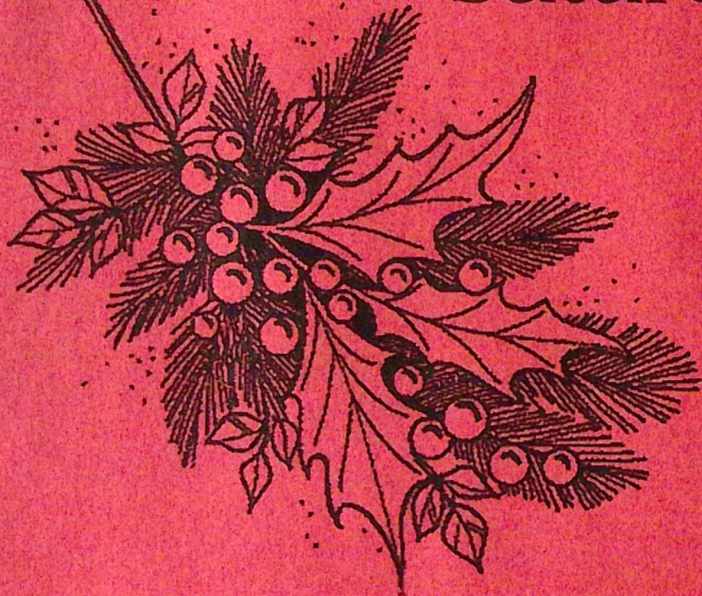

Utah Open Lands and the Snake Creek Preservation Society are thankful to the landowners and to the many organizations whose participation made this purchase possible. Those organizations include: Utah State Parks, the United States Forest Service, the Utah Division of Wildlife Resources, the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation, The Nature Conservancy, The Clayton Hansen Memorial Fund, Heber Light and Power, Utah Power and Light, United Park City Mines, Midway Boosters, Granite Foundation, Save Our Canyons, Ira Sachs, David Belz, and Utah Open Lands. Financing was provided by the Heber Valley Office of Zions Bank. Legal assistance was provided by Save Our Canyons.

The Snake Creek Preservation Society continues to negotiate with the remaining landowners in the canyon, with the goal of ensuring a long term multiple use trailhead and acquisition and conservation of the remaining non-developable private inholdings in the canyon.
